Dear Jack,

New Patent Application corresponding to
German Application 31 05 454.4

1035

~~PM-1033~~ (Case: 28243) Our File: 24364

I enclose for approval or for the inventors comments a copy of the revised English text of this specification together with a print of the drawings showing the suggested changes.

As in the other cases, I have confined my revision to linguistic matters, apart from some modification of the layout of the claims. In particular, however, the reference numerals on the drawing of this application were completely haphazard and ran neither in the order of introduction of the various items into the description or in any logical order of the components of the device. Accordingly, to make the description much more readily understandable with reference to the drawings, I have renumbered many of the parts so that the numbers are introduced substantially in numerical order.

At the same time, I have introduced hatching and some other detail into Fig. 1, which is supposed to be a cross-section of a cigarette end. The actual structure shown is no different, and I have made some minor changes of a similar character in the other cases.

I do not believe there is any special problem in this case but look forward to receiving your comments at your early convenience.

As in the other cases, I am forwarding a copy of this letter and of the draft specification to Richmond, for their information and possible assistance.

Yours sincerely,

J.H. BASS
